

National Consumer Agency

Market Research Findings: Consumer Behaviour- Switching, Making Complaints & Shopping

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

putting consumers first

February 2013

Research Conducted by amárach research

Table of Contents

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

- Key Findings
- Section 1: Consumer Switching Behaviour
- Section 2: Making Complaints
- Section 3: Consumer Shopping Behaviour
- Research Background and Methodology
- Profile of Sample

putting consumers first

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Key Findings

putting consumers first

Key Findings - I

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Switching

- When describing their behaviour:
 - Over 2 in 5 (44%) consumers state that they tend to stick with the same product and service providers.
 - 23% of consumers state that they change providers often to avail of better deals/service.
- In most sectors surveyed over 50% of consumers have not checked in the past three years to see if there is a better package/deal available to them.
- However circa 1 in 4 consumers who did check for better deals switched landline, broadband, mobile phone and electricity provider after checking.
- Across 19 key markets, overall, 37% of consumers have switched at least one product or service provider in the past year. The majority of consumers who switched did so due to a discount being offered by a new provider.

putting consumers first

Key Findings - II

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Complaints

- 33% of consumers (up 10% points) have had a reason to complain or return an item over the past 12 months.
- 3 in 4 (76%) of those who had a reason to complain/return an item actually did so, this is a decrease of 6% points from June 2012.
- 65% of those who complained found the process easy, an increase from the June 2012 figure of 58%, but over the longer term, the trend is declining.

Shopping and Pricing

- 2 in 5 (41%) consumers state that they always compare/shop around for better prices, up from 1 in 4 in 2009.
- Circa 4 in 5 consumers are now more prepared to negotiate, delay or deliberate before purchasing. While 2 in 3 (65%) buy more items on sale or discount now than a few years ago.

putting consumers first

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Section 2: Consumer Switching Behaviour

putting consumers first

Statement that Most Closely Describes Consumer Behaviour

(Base: All 15-74 – 1006)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Over 2 in 5 (44%) consumers state that they tend to stick with the same product and service providers, more likely to be older and less confident, knowledgeable or feel less protected in relation to their consumer rights.

Extent of Switching Providers within the Past 12 Months

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

W10 Nov '12
W9 Jun 2012
W8 Nov 2011
W7 M/J 2011

(Base: All holders/purchasers of products/services)

Primary

Car Insurance

Electricity supply service

Mobile telephone provider

Main grocery shop

Top up grocery shop

Broadband/internet access provider

Secondary

Fixed line telephone provider

Home insurance provider

Health insurance provider

Gas supply service

Bank financial institution with current A/C service

TV service provider

Waste provider

Tertiary

Gym membership

Savings/investment provider

Credit card provider

Provider of credit (more than 1 year but excluding mortgage)

Mortgage credit Provider

Life Insurance/ Mortgage Protection

Incidence of switching is highest in relation to car insurance, grocery shopping and gym membership. Overall the proportion who have switched at least one product/service provider is 37%.

Switching Behaviour Past 5 Years

Switched Past 5 Years

(Base: All respondents)

June '12

%

18

Nov '12

%

17

Broadband Provider

14

Fixed Line Provider

11

Mobile Provider

20 18

Electricity Provider

18

16

Gas Supply

4

4

TV Provider

6

9

* Caution small base

Switched more than once

(Base: All switchers past 5 years)

June '12

%

30

Nov '12

%

33

28

34

27

42

29

35

16 *

32 *

22 *

26

The level of switching in past 5 years in these sectors has shown a slight decline with the exception of TV Provider. There has been an increase in the level of multiple switching.

Reasons for Switching

(Base: All that have switched provider within the past 12 months)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Those who have switched in the past 12 months have primarily done so when prompted by a new provider. Bundling is a factor when switching Broadband. Poor customer service was also a reason given for those switching mobile phone provider in the past year.

putting consumers first

* Caution small base size

Last Occurrence of Checking Better Deals/Packages Available

(Base: All holders of relevant services)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Broadband and mobile phone service holders are areas with the greatest levels of shopping around. Inertia is highest for TV, electricity and gas services.

putting consumers first

Action Undertaken after Checking Deals/Packages

(Base: All who have checked for a better deal)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Circa 1 in 4 switched to a new provider after checking, with the majority of customers staying with their existing provider.

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Section 2: Making Complaints

putting consumers first

Have you Experienced a Reason to Complain/Make a Return Over Last 12 Months?

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

(Base: All aged 15-74)

'Yes' Response highest amongst:

- ✓ 35-44 - 43%
- ✓ ABC1F50+ - 37%
- ✓ Dublin - 41%
- ✓ Confident of consumer rights - 39%
- ✓ Knowledgeable of consumer rights - 39%
- ✓ Protected in relation to consumer rights - 38%

There has been an increase in having cause to complain or return an item since June 2012 – up ten percentage points and now standing at 1 in 3 (33%).

putting consumers first

Whether Complaint/Return Made When had Reason to Do So

(Base: All who had cause & complained/returned an item in past 12 months)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Nov/Dec '10

(Base: 306)

June '12

(Base: 202)

Nov '12

(Base: 326)

However despite consumer's having more reasons to complain, there has been a decline (↓6%) in the proportion who said they did actually complain on the last occasion, at 76%.

putting consumers first

Ease of the Complaints/Returns Process

(Base: All those who made a complaint/return)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Two thirds (65%) of those who complained found the process easy – up 7% from June 2012 but showing a longer term decline since 2010.

putting consumers first

Likely Action if Dissatisfied with Products/Services

(Base: All aged 15-74 – 1,006)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

The likelihood of complaining is linked to the value of goods purchased, irrespective of the source i.e. the higher the value, the more likely consumers are to complain.

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Section 3: Consumer Shopping Behaviour

putting consumers first

Shopping Around

(Base: All aged 15-74 – 1,006)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Comparison of prices

4 in 10 (41%) consumers now claim to shop around all the time, an increase of 16 percentage points from the figure reported in 2009.

putting consumers first

Key Influencing Factors in Determining Where to Shop

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

(Base: All aged 15-74 – 1,006)

Strongest Influencing Factor

Price (58%) continues to be the primary influencer when deciding where to shop. The importance of 'Convenience' and 'Experience' has declined with 'Service' now seen to be more important than at any other time in the previous research.

Agreement with Statements on Shopping Around

(Base: All aged 15-74 – 1,006)

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Circa 4 in 5 consumers are now more prepared to negotiate, delay or deliberate before purchasing, with almost two thirds (65%) buying more items on sale or discount now than they did a few years ago.

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

Research Background and Methodology

putting consumers first

A. Research Background and Methodology

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

- The research was conducted face-to-face using CAPI interviewing with 1,006 people between the ages of 15-74.
- To ensure that the data is nationally representative, quotas were applied on the basis of age, gender and social class.
- Interviewing was conducted over a three week period in November 2012.

putting consumers first

B. Profile of Sample – I

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

(Base: All aged 15-74 – 1,006)

Quotas were set on age, gender, region and social class to ensure that the sample was representative of the population.

putting consumers first

B. Profile of Sample – II – Internet Use

national consumer agency
gníomhaireacht náisiúnta tomhaltóirí

() = June 2012

(Base: All aged 15-74 – 1,006)

USE INTERNET

% Yes

EVER PURCHASED ONLINE

(Base: All Internet Users - 738)

% Yes

BANKING ONLINE

(Base: All Internet Users - 738)

% Yes

A consistent 7 in 10 respondents are internet users – and these are predominantly aged 15-44. The proportion of internet users purchasing and banking online appears to have steadied.