IKEA recalls children's bed canopies

📅 MARCH 20, 2014

IKEA is voluntarily recalling a number of children's bed canopies, intended to be draped around children's cots/beds. IKEA has identified a potential strangulation hazard associated with these products. No permanent injury has been reported but IKEA has received reports of the net on these products being pulled into cots/beds and then becoming entangled around infants' necks.

The affected bed canopies are:
