IKEA recalls SLADDA bicycle

 MAY 24, 2018

Ikea is carrying out a voluntary recall of all SLADDA bicycles, due to safety issues with the drive belt. The drive belt can suddenly snap, which in turn can lead to falls.

What to do:

Customers that have a SLADDA bicycle should stop using it and to return the bike to any IKEA store for a full refund. Accessories specifically designed to fit with SLADDA will also be refunded.

Proof of purchase/receipt is not required.
