Product Safety Information Notice on Wooden Semicircle Hand Rattle sold on the TEMU platform

📅 JULY 9, 2024

A safety issue has been identified with a Wooden Semicircle Hand Rattle sold by a third-party seller on the TEMU platform.

The product presents a risk of cuts and choking to children. The bells attached to the product have sharp edges and can detach creating small parts. If a child puts the small part in their mouth, it can block airways and cause choking.

The model number is LD001. The GoodsID is 601099518925985. The batch number is 11010123. The brand and bar code are unknown.

There are approximately 87 affected products in the Republic of Ireland. The product was sold by third-part seller Aragaki Yui.

What to do:

Customers should stop using the product immediately and keep it out of the reach of children.

Temu have contacted affected consumers in relation to this recall and arranged refunds.
